WOOLWORTH'S IN CAMERON CENTER

Plans for an F. W. Woolworth store, one of the outstanding merchandising firms in the country, to be built in Palm Springs' growing Cameron Center, have been started by Architect William F. Cody, according to an announcement made yesterday by George E. Cameron, owner of the development.

Cameron said the approximately 15,000 square foot store, which is expected to cost approximately $250,000, will join two other facilities—the Mayfair Market and the Huddle Springs—in the new center.

AT THE SAME time, Cameron also noted that plans are being made for the addition of two other enterprises to be located in the center.

"I expect to be able to announce the completion of arrangements with two other firms of national importance within a few weeks," he said.

Russell Wade, exclusive agent for Cameron Center, negotiated the transaction with the Woolworth firm in its San Francisco offices.

It is the first chain variety store to locate in Palm Springs.

Cameron, whose announcement came in the nature of a Thanksgiving gift to the Village, noted that location of the Woolworth store here will provide a new and powerful stimulant to the city's employment situation.

"WOOLWORTH'S MADE their decision in favor of Palm Springs after an exhaustive survey of available locations," Cameron said. "Their choice indicates further the rapid growth and importance of Palm Springs as a shopping mecca for the entire valley area."

Construction of the Woolworth building is expected to begin within 30 days, Cameron said, and occupancy should be realized within six months. Bids are expected to be put out shortly.

"The addition of this store to the center— together with the opening next month of the Mayfair Market—will enable Palm Springs residents to do all of their shopping at one place within a matter of minutes," he said.

TRUMAN DESCRIBED Garner as "the greatest presiding officer the U.S. Senate ever had" and then compared him scathingly with "that squirrel head we have now."

Water Problem

Mosk Discloses Amendment Plan

INDIAN WELLS.—A constitutional amendment that may provide a partial solution to California's serious water problems will be sought immediately by Governor-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown and others close to the problem, according to the state's new attorney-general.

Superior Judge Stanley Mosk, speaking to more than 200 Riverside and Imperial County Democrats at Western Hills last night, said that the meeting will probably be held "sometime before the first of the year."

MOSK, WHO DEFEATED Aracada Congressman Patrick Hillings for the attorney-general post in the Nov. 4 primary, said that Brown had invited him to meet with him on the matter.

"I know he asked (State Senator Richard) Richards to the meeting, too," Mosk said last night. "He wants to work out some sort of a constitutional amendment that can be presented to the legislature when it convenes on Jan. 5."

MOSK, JUBILANT over his decisive victory, said that his apparently easy win over Hillings was as much attributable to Hillings' campaign as his own. "We have had an opportunity to see at first hand the results of waging that type of campaign in a state where enlightened voters abound," the jurist declared. "Hillings wound up with the lowest number of total votes of any statewide Republican candidate."

MOSK NOTED THAT most of the Democratic victors in the Nov. 4 election had relaxed in the Palm Springs area after the arduous campaigning. He and Mrs. Mosk are currently staying at the Ocotillo Lodge in Palm Springs.

Present—and introduced by Southern California Democratic Central Committee Chairman Lionel Steinberg of Palm Springs—were Riverside County Sheriff Joe Rice, Palm Springs Police Chief Gus Kettmann, Palm Springs City Attorney Jerry Bunker, Riverside County Supervisor George Berkley, Indio Superior Judge Hilton McCabe, Congressman D. S. Saund, State Senator William Beard of Imperial County and presidents of many Imperial and Riverside County Democratic clubs including Herbert Hass, president of the Palm Springs unit.

NORTH PALM SPRINGS

By ORPHA GEIER

The popularity of May and Art Branch was evidenced on Tuesday evening when a group of friends from Desert Hot Springs surprised them with a house-warming at their new home on Keith Street. Bearing gifts and enjoying the music, dancing and refreshments were Lloyd "Skeets" and Kathryn Brison, John and Merrily Krause, Eugene and Eleanor Smith. John and Julian Santucci, "Doc" and Janet Elliott, Pasquale and Viola Monaco, Joe and Mary Turner, Pauline Kull, Flossie Gardner, Elizabeth Snyder, Jimmie Boyer, Andy Anderson, Ted Cooper, "Buck" and Marie Brickmaster, Ed and Kay Hamm, Joyce Lewis, Darrel Gibson, "Frosty" Briggs, Orpha Geier, Don Ferreira, Dean Boyd and Mac McGovern.

Arnold and June Petersen of Westminster spent the weekend here with longtime friends, Bill Lawton and Phil and Betty Smith. On Saturday the Petersens' 20th wedding anniversary was observed with a party at the Smith home.

John and Lora Rose drove to Elsinore on Sunday, to deliver some furniture to the Willard Hansons who formerly lived here. Mr. Hanson is scoutmaster there and has a very active troop. The Roses stopped at the New Hope auction on their way home and found it very interesting.

Postmasters of Riverside County met for a dinner and business meeting Nov. 16 at the Desert Air Hotel. Host was Postmaster Sid Greenleaf of Rancho Mirage and Field Service Representative Wendell H. Larsen was speaker. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hathaway of Desert Hot Springs, Marie Maher of North Palm Springs and Mr. and Mrs. William Kepley.

Phyllis and Bernard Blatchley, son, David, and daughter, Nancy, spent Veterans Day visiting Phyllis' father, Richard Maher, a d family. Glad to report that Berne has recovered nicely from spinal bone-grafting surgery and is back at work again.

In North Palm Springs, residents love the impromptu music of guest artists, Dave Powell and Herb Owen, who with Don Ferrera, will be playing weekends for dancing, starting Friday, Nov. 21, at the Parker House.

Ray Smith is back at the desert to live after a summer in the dairy business in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hamm of Pittsburgh, Pa., parents of Ed Hamm, are spending the winter in their home in Palm Desert.

"Doc" and Jane Elliott were out last week for a visit with their many friends in North Palm Springs. Doc was formerly in business here. The Ellotts are visiting Flagstaff, Ariz., and old Mexico before returning to their home in Los Angeles.

Residents wishing to participate in the program were asked to attend a Chamber meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Chamber building.

The barbecue, planned for 6 p.m., Nov. 29, at the Town Hall, is designed to raise funds for community advertising and promotion.

Tennis Club's 1940 Chef Returns

Veteran Chef In Triumph

Newcomers to Palm Springs are raving about Chef Ted Doak's gourmet-like creations in the Tennis Club's kitchens.

But sand-worn desert residents are taking it all in stride.

They remember Doak's first stint at the Tennis Club back in 1940 and they say that he was great then. Now, 18 years later, he's even better, they add.

DOAK WORKED in the original Tennis Club, under the aegis of Mrs. Austin McManus, and hadn't seen the enlargement and refurbishing that took place immediately after World War II.

While Palm Springs and the Tennis Club were growing in size, the amiable culinary veteran was growing in experience. He was chef for such places as the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles, the Palos Verde Golf Club at Palos Verde and at the Flintridge Country Club in Pasadena. Members received a taste of his proficiency at opening night for the club and have reacted with a wholesale wave of party reservations at the club.

CHEF TED DOAK, who has been feeding people professionally for 42 years, is shown, left, carving a turkey at the Tennis Club, while maître'd, Paul Fodles displays a real southern baked ham.

Members and guests making up Thanksgiving parties of eight or more may have a whole turkey carved at their table, it was reported.

Supervisors Study Proposal of Bar Group for 3 More Superior Courts

Space Problem Is Factor

Submitting a report compiled by a Courts and Calendars committee of the Riverside County Bar Association of which he is president, Harmon Brown, Riverside attorney, told the Board of Supervisors this week of the committee's determination of the need for three additional Superior Courts in Riverside County, two in Riverside and one in Indio.

Brown spoke of congestion at the Superior Court now in Indio. He said that nothing but criminal cases can be tried there for some time, probably not before February, as criminal cases must come before civil cases, and there are many of them on the calendar.

THE COMMITTEE stated that the increase in cases filed, the increase in the number of trials which have been set and are ready for trial, together with estimate of the trial days coupled with the increased work load of the departments of the Superior Court, as well as the increased population and economic comparisons, justify the three additional courts.

They presented statistics and a Superior Courts work load report to substantiate their claim.

THE SUPERVISORS promised to study the report and set Monday, Nov. 24, at 11 a.m., for further discussion of the Bar Association proposal.

"I believe we should make sure we have space for the additional Courts before we do anything about this," declared Supervisor William Jones.

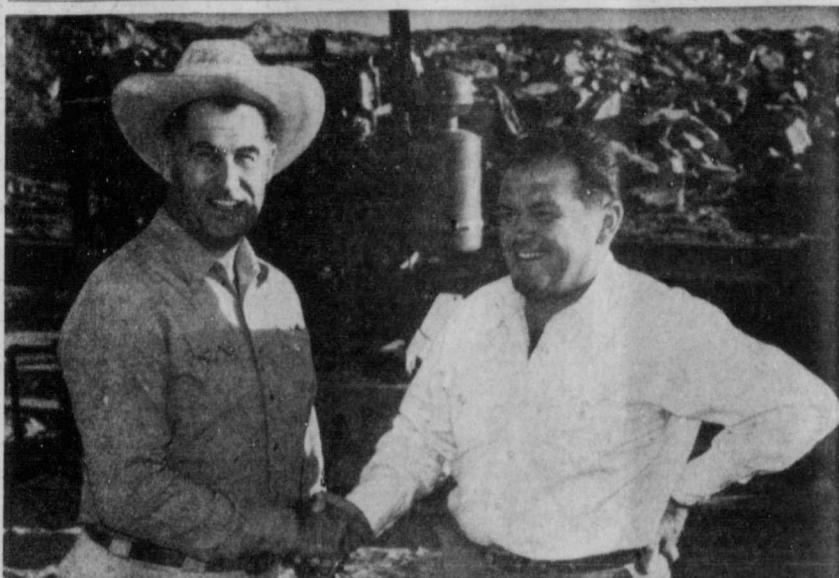

Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain suggested that the present Indio Superior Courtroom might be large enough to make it into two courtrooms, but Administrative Officer Robert T. Anderson said the Indio Courtroom is not as large now as those in Riverside.

SUPERVISOR FRED McCall said he favors having one traveling Superior Court judge going from city to city holding court in the existing justice courtrooms. He said this would eliminate the need for providing additional Superior Courtroom space.

Administrative Officer Anderson commented later that the traveling court idea is worthy of consideration. He said that records could be kept in Riverside on a traveling court, eliminating the need for duplicating records if the court should be located permanently in another city, as in the case of the Indio court. On the other hand, he said that when a judge travels he has to take his retinue with him, from city to city, and this could be expensive.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BAR ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE is H. M. Dougherty of Riverside. Other members are County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., Enoch C. Reid and Richard A. Fitzgerald, all of Riverside; Wallace P. Rouse of Indio; Thomas M. Cox of Hemet; Saul Ruskin of Palm Springs; Merrill Brown of Cathedral City; Fred Wing of Banning, and E. Spurgeon Rothrock of Corona.

Harmon Brown as president, is an ex-officio member, as was Judson M. Waugh of Riverside who preceded him as president.

111. First sales of fairway homesites has now started at the office on Broadmoor Drive, at the southeastern city limits.

FAIRWAY HOME SITES ON SALE AT PALM SPRINGS GOLF COURSE

First sales of estate size fairway homesites are now under way at Palm Springs Golf Club, new $15,000,000 development located at the southeast city limits on Highway 111.

According to executive president Frank Bogert, first players on the nation's leading golf course designers, will tee-off shortly after the first of the year.

A NEW SALES office located at the corner of Highway 111 and Broadmoor Drive is open daily and Sunday.

Palm Springs Golf Club which covers 332 acres, is the biggest project in resort area history. Master plans for the completed development call for 240 fairway homesites, 300 garden cottages, a major resort hotel, a huge swimming pool and recreation area, and a complete shopping center.

The fairway homesites will be developed by private contractors through the purchasers. Separate Golf Club Cottages designed by C. W. Doty, are located in the center of the course and will contain the most modern concept of leisure living.

PAPER NICKEL ALREADY IN OPERATION opposite the new development on Highway 111, are the famous Romanoffs On the Rocks Restaurant and Laury's Steak Ranch. Also adjoining is the well-known Palm Valley School.

The fairway homesites will be developed by private contractors through the purchasers. Separate Golf Club Cottages designed by C. W. Doty, are located in the center of the course and will contain the most modern concept of leisure living.

A property owner's association has been organized to control architectural plans and enforce the covenants and restrictions that have been created to become a part of each deed.

An early sellout of the first unit of fairway homesites fronting Broadmoor Drive is expected. Information and sales are being handled at the development, as well as at the main office located at Westview Development Corp., 405 Industrial Place, Palm Springs.

The 80-year-old pensioner told a bank teller here he had received the check in 1903 from the Great Northern railway as bonus for a special run he had made while a conductor.

A free brochure will be mailed to anyone requesting it.

Administrative Officer Anderson commented later that the traveling court idea is worthy of consideration. He said that records could be kept in Riverside on a traveling court, eliminating the need for duplicating records if the court should be located permanently in another city, as in the case of the Indio court. On the other hand, he said that when a judge travels he has to take his retinue with him, from city to city, and this could be expensive.

School Crossing Guard Policy Now in Effect

A policy for selection of school crossing guard locations and the placement of adult crossing guards in unincorporated areas of the county was adopted by the Board of Supervisors this week.

The location of a proposed crossing will first be studied by the county road department whose report will go to the advisory traffic committee and thence to the Board of Supervisors. If approved by the supervisors, the California Highway Patrol will be notified and requested to proceed with placement of the guard.

Determination of the need for a crossing will be based on its location, vehicular volume, pedestrian volume, the number and length of traffic barricades (time between safe traffic gaps).

Overlook Road To Be Improved

The improvement and paving of Overlook Drive for a distance of 500 feet southeasterly from Marion Ridge Drive in Idyllwild, on a cooperative basis, was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week as recommended by Road Commissioner A. C. Keith.

The estimated cost of the project is $1,050 of which the property owners will pay $270, the cost of the liquid asphalt. The improved road will serve four homes and three other properties on which homes are to be built.

Warsaw, Poland, founded in the 13th century, is nevertheless one of Europe's youngest cities today. About 85 per cent of it was destroyed during World War II and more than one million people live in the rebuilt city.

The Russia Tourists Don't See

American political figures, business men, educators, entertainers, tourists with a flair for the curious such as the Iron Curtain, are returning from Russia with inaccurate and false conclusions about life in the Soviet Union. Some of these have never been to Russia before.

They possess no eye-witness yard-stick of previous years for comparison, know little or nothing about the inner working of the Soviet system, but draw their conclusions from two-week surface impressions set up to fool them, or mislead them while there.

MOST AMERICANS who visit Russia cannot speak Russian. The average spends about two weeks there . . . the maximum visit permit being only four weeks. Their entire Russian tour is controlled and escorted by individual guides literally day and night.

With few exceptions these personal guides seldom leave them out of their sight. Every excursion is planned by Intourist, the government travel agency. The most you can do by yourself is to walk around a few blocks from your hotel. You usually eat all your meals in the hotel you're assigned to. You cannot change your itinerary once you're in Russia. Should you get ill or something and must get out, it will take you up to a week to get an exit visa to leave the country.

UNDER SUCH regimented and controlled tours the visitor at best gets only a surface impression of life in Russia. Aside from the fact that the tourist can say he was there . . . and gathered an impression of the hum-drum of everyday life on the streets . . . he is not qualified to bring back conclusions about Russia's "advance," "growth," "political system," "production," etc., as many try to do.

They are better qualified to describe the Bolshoi ballet, the historic Kremlin, the impressive University of Moscow, the hydroelectric plant at Stalingrad, and the Volga-Don Canal. Those who claim interviews with "Russian people" don't tell you that these people were selected for them by the government and their answers are absolutely planted propaganda.

SOME OF THE scientists who come home bragging about Soviet reactors and laboratories as being superior to ours, which they are in some cases, single out only those that happen to be bigger and better. They seldom are shown or discuss laboratories and equipment which are inferior to ours.

These same scientists can go to England and Germany and Sweden and find certain areas of science which are superior to the U. S. But why should the U. S. be expected to be superior in everything. Why must we spend ourselves into bankruptcy trying to be first in everything.

RUSSIA HAS MADE considerable strides in education in the past 25 years. From a backward system they have improved considerably. But the same is true of every educational system in the world. Most of the nations of the world have also improved in the past 25 years . . . and that includes the United States.

Observers point to the great University of Moscow . . . as my colleague John Gunther put it in his book: "It cost $750 million, which is more than the total endowments of Harvard, Yale and Princeton combined . . . and is about five times the total value of the plant of the University of Chicago."

MURGUNTER, like others, leaves the impression that the University of Moscow is bigger and better than anything we have; therefore Russian education is bigger and better, too. What Mr. Gunther and others don't tell you is that the States in which Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Chicago universities are located have more schools and colleges than all of Russia combined, not just one super-duper campus to impress the tourist.

Tourists to Russia seldom see how the masses live outside of the downtown area of the large cities. They don't see five families using the same bathroom and kitchen inside the massive apartment buildings. They don't know that Moscow, a city of over six million people, has no telephone book and only six gas stations.

THE TOURISTS don't know that the Russian people are rationed meat only three times a month . . . that oranges, lemons, bananas, coffee are out of reach of all except the elite . . . the party members, scientists, educators, skilled workers, engineers, military, professional men and women, etc.

The tourists don't know that no one can own land in Russia . . . that the government owns everything . . . that the Russian people cannot travel freely . . . they cannot vote for non-Communist candidates . . . most of them cannot change jobs . . . cannot move from place to place.

They don't know that the fast planes and trains they ride in are not available to the Russian masses. They don't know that a few miles out of Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, the roads are impassable and far below the standard of the worst dirt roads in the U. S. They don't know that people from behind the Iron Curtain are escaping at the alarming rate of 25,000 a month.

American Language

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Conquerors always strike a good lick with their tongues. It is not surprising that the American language is catching hold around the free world. But what form will our linguistic conquest take?

The Romans made Latin the language of law and medicine. The French left us with the attaches, the coups, the aides of diplomacy. Further back, the Greeks supplied much that speaks of theater and poetry. The Egyptians taught us the concepts of arithmetic, astronomy and geometry. China gave us the pictures words which eventually became an alphabet.

WHAT HAS AMERICAN conquest done for literature and language? The question first intrigued me during the recent "battle" of the Formosa Strait. In asking why the Nationalist Chinese scored so well in the air battles, I was reminded that for years we have been training young foreign airmen in our own schools. But I had not thought to what an extent this training required the teaching of English.

The success of the experiment was very uneven. One Chinese had to be dropped because "his performance record was considerably below that of the other students." The other Chinese was "satisfactory." The two Turks were qualified to perform, under supervision, the duties of an apprentice jet mechanic.

". . . to bridge the gap . . . so that these willing citizens of the free world might join hands with us in this period of international preparedness."

The key ideas are those of permissiveness, emergency, temporariness, hand-jolting and defensiveness. Say what you will, this is not the lexicon of world leadership.—Holmes Alexander.

STILL, THE DIRECTOR OF the experiment, Pierre de Les-

This Side of The Sun

There's a signal down at Sunrise
But none where it really counts.
No protection due for many years
While the traffic toll there mounts.

If it is inexpedient now to build an overpass at the intersection of Ramon Road and Highways 60-70-99, why not install traffic lights?

THAT IS a more dangerous intersection than Sunrise Way and Highway 111 where there is a traffic signal. Since the highway was widened at Thousand Palms there have been nine deaths there in accidents.

If an overpass takes the joint action of county, state and federal authorities and cannot be built until the freeway plan is fully completed, signal lights could be installed at a fraction of the cost of an overpass.

AND IF IT is going to take several years before the freeway plans are ready, why not start with a waste of lives.

SPOT ILLUMINATION of the corner might help—but a lot of those accidents occur in the daytime when the sun lights up the intersection more than any artificial lighting system could.

TRAFFIC signals there, with sufficient warning on the main highway on either side, would turn the trick, I think.

SEEMS TO ME, such signals are more needed there than at Sunrise and Highway 111.

Signals at the junction of Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive are still a big need, too.

CIRCULATION departments of every newspaper receive complaints periodically when a newsboy goes. After all, he's just a youngster and is entitled to goof now and then.

HOWEVER, a complaint received by a newsboy this week riled nobody, instead it made all hands happy.

Addressed to the newsboy who serves her neighborhood, this woman wrote:

"DEAR LITTLE LEAGUER (I'm sure you are one). I admire your sure aim, throw and delivery but we once had a snow white door which is fast becoming spattered with evidence of newsprint."

"You have given us fine service and we appreciate it to we will have our landscaping in soon and wonder if you'd mind aiming at poor old rock, cactus or something that won't have to be repainted, huh?"

"ONE NIGHT I was stooping over with my back to the door when these willing citizens of the free world might join hands with us in this period of international preparedness."

"I might as well have been hit by a bulldozer."

"Now, c'mon, stop hitting the door."

The letter was signed Mrs. Ida Conti, 655 El Cielo Road.

Postcard

Alas, the Federal bagman is writing me love letters again:

"In order not to cause you unnecessary inconvenience . . . tax payments should be made within ten days."

Inconvenience, unnecessary or necessary, is inconvenient, Bagman.

That is my attitude. What has happened to my Government anyway? Before elections, they are polite as pie. NOBODY mentions taxes . . . except in pointing out that they are too high.

"DOWN WITH TAXES!" That is what they say. On both sides.

But after elections, that is a different matter. Out come the form letters and the threats of the iron Maiden: "If payment is not made . . . the law provides . . ."

DO YOU KNOW that buried treasure is taxable income? True. For some time I have had in mind to dig up a little treasure.

I would not be surprised if there is a chestful of salty duds in my own back yard. If I knew just where to look. This is treasure country all right. We found four hairpins and a quarter in back of the couch one day.

I HAVE AN authentic map to the Lost Dutchman mine down near Phoenix.

I could skin-dive right off Baja California and come up with a load of pearls that would knock your eye out.

I will not do it though. It would just draw more letters from the bagman. More unnecessary inconvenience. It is better to be poor and content than rich and reluctant.

EVEN TALKING about treasure gets me in a digging mood though. Couple of years ago, I made a long detour just to get into Menard, Texas.

You can see the ruins of the Spanish presidio and the mission near town. And there isn't anybody in Texas that doesn't know Jim Bowie had a direct line on the Spanish mine.

LOST NOW, OF COURSE. I wouldn't give a dime for a mine that was found. The best ones are lost. Like Pegleg Smith's mine which is sometimes located in Nevada and sometimes in California and sometimes in Arizona.

Such is the colossal deference received today by a courageous folk singer who happens to hate neckties. I thought that a symbol of the times might be Edith Adams' full-length chinchilla, "gambler coat," each skin contributed by her husband when he lost a chunk of money gambling.

Pegleg's mine is the handiest lost mine I know about. Because you don't have to drive far to look for it. No matter what State you are in.

I CERTAINLY intend to set my son off right on treasure hunting. He is quite a hand ready with a beach bucket and shovel.

I rather look forward to looking for buried treasure together. He can do the digging and I will do the directing. The brainwork.

I have picked out a lot of likely spots.

Why, right over on Dry Creek in the California Mother Lode, I have stood on the ruins of the old store where you could dig up $20,000 in gold slugs. Or is it $90,000?

ANYWAY, IT IS a lot. And everybody knows it is there. Not the exact spot. But almost. The most likely spot is in the southeast corner. A man with a witching rodwitched it up there.

He put a little piece of gold in the fork of a branch. That is the way you make a witching rod.

(But not everybody has the talent.) The rod dipped right over that corner.

I HAVE THE witching talent myself. I took a plated gold cuff-link and stuck it in a forked branch and pointed at the place.

The pull was so strong I had to drop it. Otherwise it would have pulled me off my feet.

Now that I think of it, the rod was pointed right in the direction of the income tax office, 200 miles away. Maybe that had something to do with it.

The Mink and Chinchilla Set

NEW YORK — They sat there in their diamonds and pearls, with their minks and chinchillas dripping over the champagne buckets, the men looking very starched in their black ties—and waited there in the Waldorf Empire Room for the slim young man who not long ago worked in a hamburger stand to bounce out and enchant them.

Harry Belafonte slithered out hips first.

"Get him!" growled one ring-side, through a Corona-Corona cloud. "We got to wear a black tie, and he comes out in a red shirt, with no tie at all!"

What a ringside it was! Oberon, Ann Miller, Polly Bergen wearing glasses, Ernie Kovacs wearing cigar, Edith Adams wearing full-length chinchilla, Pat Boone, Terry Moore trying to divide herself between young Bob Evans and South American insurance executive named Ernest Lee—and upon the mezzanine Fredric March, who came gingerly down to dance with Mrs. Jackie Robinson.

"Fred's got a game leg which he'll remember tomorrow," smiled March's nice wife, Flora-Elle Eldridge.

Look author Bill Davidson won the Ben Franklin award for his Frank Sinatra series. . . . Gov. Harriman's planning a trip to Russia. . . . Singer Sam Cook was injured in an Arkansas auto crash; his valet was killed. . . . Irony: Liz Taylor's next film, "Two for the Seesaw," has her falling in love with a married man. . . . Marie MacDonald almost missed her Houston date when her plane was forced down at an Air Force base. . . . Dean Martin's pals are chuckling at his beer endorsement. (BEER).

Look finally he concluded with "Matilda," he asked the red-coated waiters to sing it, then called out across to the assembled wealth and fame, "Last year they made me an honorary member . . ."

5A Palm Springs Imports

New Auto Dealer Here Boasts Long Experience

CATHEDRAL CITY — The desert area's newest addition to "Automobile Row" is Palm Springs Imports but it is new in name only.

More than 40 years of automotive experience is totaled by the firm's four top executives, and much of that aggregate has been gained in the sale and servicing of British automobiles.

Palm Springs Imports — located at 68-406 Highway 111, Cathedral City — is the authorized dealer for British Motor Corp. products, which includes MG, Austin, Morris, Austin-Healey and Sprite.

JACK GOLDBERG, owner of the new automobile franchise here, also owns two Rambler agencies, one at Burbank and the other at San Fernando.

"I'm moving my family to Palm Springs as soon as our home is finished," Goldberg said. "We'll be permanent residents." He now lives in Van Nuys.

Also moving to Palm Springs on a permanent basis will be Saul Louis, general manager of the firm.

"THE BASIS FOR the initial success we have enjoyed in Palm Springs is due directly to the superior service and satisfaction obtained by both our sales and service departments," Goldberg said.

In his service department, he has Wilton Walls, who boasts eight years as a Goldberg employee. The parts department at Palm Springs Imports, headed by Robbie Robinson, who has 12 years of service specializing in foreign cars, has been a major factor through its ability to provide fast, accurate delivery on specific parts.

Additionally, Palm Springs Imports maintains a specialty in the repair of automatic transmissions in a used car department (which automatically guarantees each of its cars for one year on a special plan) and a repair shop that specializes in the repair of all foreign-made automobiles.

Board Promises Sign Change At Dillon Road

Road Commissioner A. C. Keith told the Board of Supervisors this week that a survey of the intersection of Dillon Road and Indian Avenue near Desert Hot Springs shows that signs and markings are substantially adequate in their present form and that there have been no accidents there since the installation of an "island."

Keith said, however, that as an added deterrent for west bound traffic turning south, a "One Way, Do Not Enter" sign will be substituted for the existing "Keep Right" sign on the easterly end of the island, and chevron bars will be installed for a short distance easterly from the island curb along Dillon Road.

10th Birthday To Be Feted At PD Church

Former Pastors
To Join McClain
In Commemoration

PALM DESERT — A tenth anniversary church service to commemorate the founding of the Palm Desert Community Church, will be held Thanksgiving morning at 10 a.m.

"Happy Birthday" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Warren C. McClain at this special service which will be held in the church.

TWO FORMER PASTORS of the church, Dr. John Robertson Macartney and Dr. P. Martin Baker, will speak briefly at the service.

Dr. Macartney founded the Community Church on Thanksgiving Day in 1948 and Dr. Baker took the pastorate from 1953 until the fall of 1956.

The church, which has shown a notable growth since its early beginnings, has a chapel which seats 150 and a church house which is used for Sunday school, scout meetings and other community affairs.

It lists a membership of approximately 130 and a Sunday school attendance of 80.

THE WOMEN'S Church Association has added many outstanding improvements to the church house and has supported missionary work.

The Christian Youth Fellowship was organized in 1957 and the newest group to be organized in October of this year is the "Young Couples" club.

More than 10 years ago, Cliff Henderson, Palm Desert founder, had the church site donated by the Palm Desert Corporation when he was at the head of that organization.

Rev. McClain, present pastor of the church, was installed in 1956 when he came to Palm Desert from the pastorate in Pittsburgh, California.

'Happiness' Topic For CC Service

CATHEDRAL CITY — Rev. James W. Arnold will reveal "The Surest Way to Happiness" in a special Thanksgiving service at 9:30 a.m., Sunday, in Cathedral City Community Church.

Special Thanksgiving music will also be offered at the service which has been set aside as the church's recognition of Thanksgiving.

Cauliflower, which was around as long ago as the 6th century B.C., is called the aristocrat of the cabbage family because of its sensitivity of climate, difficulty to grow and relatively high price.

'Power of Positive Thanking' Is Topic for Thanksgiving

"The Power of Positive Thanking" is the topic for discussion as the Palm Springs Church of Religious Science observes the traditional American season of Thanksgiving.

Rev. Lillian Caldwell, minister of the church, will take as her platform for development of the theme the observation that most of us are inclined to be half-hearted in our expression of thanks for what is considered "little" things, yet the Master Teacher released into real abundance those persons who had been "faithful over the few."

EACH SUNDAY morning at 10:30, organist Con Maffie plays a quarter-hour concert of classic and semi-classic selections, prior to the regular quarter-hour meditation music service itself begins at 11 o'clock.

"MANY YEARS AGO the lesson was taught that the way to have much for which to be truly thankful is to start being positive.

Snead, Hogan Playing World, Each Other

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — The Mexican sun was hot on the first tee but to the pair standing side by side it could have been Augusta, Denver, Colo., San Francisco or Wentworth, England.

Sam Snead and Ben Hogan were teeing off as partners in the first round of the Canada Cup golf championship against best teams from 31 nations. But their attitude spelled distinct rivalry, too, for the International Trophy which goes to the low individual.

It was clear that both of them wanted it.

Hogan was called over to meet two former Mexican presidents, sitting under a green canopy on the tee.

"Hiyah," Hogan said with a brief smile.

Sam just nodded.

THEY WERE PARTNERS, but only so far. Because they have met head and head four times and Snead has come off on top in three of them—a playoff for the Masters' in the PGA at Cherry Hills, and in the San Francisco match play.

The last time they were partners in this one—and Hogan ran away and hid from his hill-billy partner—was at Wentworth in 1956, where Ben took the International Trophy with a 277 while Sam shot 289.

They shook hands briefly with the Argentine team, with whom they were paired. Red-shirted, chunky Fidel De Luca smiled hugely and tall handsome Leopoldo Ruiz flashed white teeth.

Then the announcer's liquid Spanish poured over the loud speaker, droning on and on. As it told the crowd about Hogan, Snead jittered from foot to foot and Ben stepped up to a three-foot globe of the world which served as a tee marker and smashed a drive down the middle. He didn't even bother to tip his white cap.

SAM DIDN'T WAIT until they were finished announcing him. The Spanish had hardly stopped flowing when he blasted his tee shot up the right side of the fairway.

"Quiet," said the announcer, as Ruiz, a man who looks like wrestler Antonino Rocca, stepped up to his tee shot. And Ruiz proved that he was indeed one of the game's longest hitters as he wallop one past Snead's ball.

"Bueno," the crowd applauded. "It was," said a mustached Mexican standing behind the tee, "what you North Americans call a 'helluva shot'."

GEORGE MEANEY, president of the American Federation of Labor, was an on-looker and a participant in the November tournament of the Palm Springs Desert Seniors Golf Association this week at O'Donnell, Tamarisk and Thunderbird

Rose Tourney Float Benefit Tomorrow

Indian Wells, Western Hills, Scene of Party

Tomorrow is the Big Day at Indian Wells Country Club and Desi Arnaz' Western Hills Hotel.

And also the Big Day for the Palm Springs Rose Tournament Float Association.

A day of golf in an event appropriately called the Rose Tournament of Golf and an evening of fun and festivities at the Western Hills Hotel is being staged as a benefit for the Float Association to make sure that Palm Springs will have a float in the January 1, 1959, Pasadena Rose Tournament.

THERE WILL be the Rose Tournament of Golf morning and afternoon on the Indian Wells golf course which includes green fees, dinner et al. For the evening only, $12.50.

Eddie Susalla, manager of Indian Wells Country Club and Desi Arnaz' Western Hills Hotel.

But there'll be room for all Monday night when the hotel will be on the job as usual.

The notice of the sell-out was given to save anyone a futile trip to the hotel for the tournament benefit tomorrow night.

Arnaz and Harris will act as auctioneers when merchandise donated by desert area businessmen will be sold with the proceeds also going to the Float Association.

The Western Hills program is already a sell-out, it was reported today.

Perris Upset Tribe 27 to 12

Penalties Costly to Indians

Palm Springs High School Indians wound up the 1958 Riverside County League season last night on a dismal note as they bowed, 12-27, to a fired-up Perris team, playing before highly partisan homecoming crowd.

Penalties and an air of overconfidence, as they were highly favored before game time, contributed to the Indians' defeat.

PENALTIES pestered the Tribe throughout the game from the first period when a Cleo James touchdown was called back because of illegal procedure until the end of the game.

A second Indian TD was called back in the second quarter when James passed to Don Burke.

First official score of the game came just before the half when Luis Aviles went over for Perris and Ron Nehem kicked the extra point to make it 7-0 which is the way the half ended.

LATE IN THE THIRD quarter an "unnecessary roughness" penalty set up the second Perris TD. Roy Tannehill went over and Nehem again converted to make it 14-0.

Four minutes into the fourth period two passes, James to David Sing clicked and cut James into a position to rack up his third touchdown, only one of which was counted.

BUT PALM SPRINGS dropped out of the ball game on the next kick-off which Gil Prince took and rammed back 85 yards to score.

With only two minutes to go, James took a hand-off and went 65 yards—but it was too late and the game ended, Palm Springs, 12, Perris, 27.

IN OTHER GAMES last night, Coachella and Beaumont staged a hum-dinger with the Arabs finally winning 40 to 31 to win the 1958 Riverside County League championship with a 7-0 record and putting Beaumont into a third place tie with the Indians.

San Jacinto defeated Hemet 18-12 in their traditional Big Game and Banning bopped poor Elsinore, 49-0 to take second place in the league.

Groom Jones for Basilio Bout After Calhoun Victory

NEW YORK, U.P.D.—Middleweight Ralph Tiger Jones, who upset Rory Calhoun by the margin of a foul-round Friday night, may meet top contender Carmen Basilio at Syracuse, N. Y., in January.

Promoter Norman Rothschild announced he had offered ex-champion Basilio $35,000 to meet Jones at the Syracuse Memorial Auditorium in a non-television bout.

Unranked Jones, a 9-5 underdog, won a unanimous decision over 10th-rated Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., in their TV-radio 10-rounders at Madison Square Garden, after slugger Calhoun had been penalized his best round, the eighth, on a low-blown foul.

5TH ANNUAL ELKS TURKEY SHOOT TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Palm Springs Elks Lodge will hold its fifth annual turkey shoot Sunday, from 9 a.m., until dark, at the old shooting range on Highway 111, back of the Palm Springs Food agency.

A Thanksgiving turkey will be given away to all high scorers, competing with rifles, pistols, traps, or bow and arrows. The turkeys will be awarded in the form of orders on local stores, redeemable at any time.

Committee chairmen for the Elks sponsored event are Bill Rogers and Howard Poe.

Guns and ammunition will be furnished at the range, or if the participant wishes, he can bring his own. According to the chairmen of the event, many prizes, other than the turkeys, will be given.

Last Rites Said Today for Mel Ott In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, U.P.D.—Mel Ott, the greatest of all the Giants except for John McGraw, will be buried today, mourned by a sports public that respected him as ballplayer and man.

Services for the National League's all-time homerun king will be held at 2 p.m., from the P. J. McMahon and Sons Funeral Home with interment in Metairie Cemetery. Due to his family's request for an early burial, Ott's remains will go to the grave without the presence of the host of baseball greats who expressed a desire to pay their final respects.

Ott died Friday at the age of 49 after a round-the-clock fight for his life by doctors who said he succumbed finally to a kidney infection known as uremia. Ott and his wife were injured a week ago in a car crash in Bay St. Louis, Miss., that instantly killed the driver of the other car.

Baltimore has a string of six home victories and is a six-point choice to make it seven before a sellout crowd of more than 57,000. The Lions 3-4-1, defending league and Western Division champions, are rolling now after a poor start and are 3½-point choices to beat the Bears at Detroit before more than 50,000.

Leading Cowboys In East L.A. Rodeo

EAST LOS ANGELES, U.P.D.—Some 150 top rodeo cowboys were scheduled to compete today at Great Western Exhibition grounds in the final program of the R.C.A. Rodeo Circuit's 1958 season.

Among top riders expected to appear was Casey Tibbs, three-time national rodeo champion.

Rose Bowl and PCC Crown at Stake in Games

United Press International The Rose Bowl and the Pacific Coast Conference championship are at stake today as eight teams go to the post in the closest grid race in PCC history.

If University of California would lose to Stanford it will be Katy-bar-the-door because four of the eight clubs will believe they earned a shot at Iowa on New Year's Day—if they win today.

California, led by the great Joe Kapp, went into today's fray with a 5-1 conference record and undisputed claim to the league championship if it can whip Stanford. However, the Golden Bears will have to stop one of the best passing attacks in the West to clinch the victory. The Indians sport the two best passers in the league in Bob Nicolet and Dick Norman.

UP IN OREGON, the Webfoots and Oregon State clash in the "big game" for that state. The Beavers could claim a share of the crown by winning. They have two losses.

While 80,000 will see the Cal-Stanford clash, about 65,000 will go into the Coliseum in Los Angeles to see Southern California battle the Bruins. The Trojans, coming fast in late season, could also claim a share of the crown with a win over the Bruins. USC has two losses. UCLA is out of contention.

In Seattle, Washington plays host to Washington State. The Huskies aren't in the running, but Washington State has only two conference losses and could claim the crown by a victory.

Oregon State and Washington State have won more games than California and USC. But their schedule includes Idaho—and there is some claim that the Vandals scores do not count.

MEXICO CITY, U.P.D.—The United States team of two 46-year-olds, Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan, trailed Irish oldtimers Harry Bradshaw and Christy O'Connor in the International Trophy and Canada Cup championship today, but no one was betting that the Americans wouldn't beat them out with two rounds to go.

Bradshaw, nine-time Irish professional champion, shot a two-under-par 70 in the second round on a damp, gloomy Friday in this mile-and-a-half-high city to match his opening round score and take the lead for the individual international trophy with a total of 140.

Grouped with Slammin' Sam was Miguel Salas of Colombia, the first round leader with a 69. But the thin little pro from South America ballooned to a 74 in the second round.

Action Asked on 'Flood' Conditions On Dillon Road and Indian Avenue

Board Orders Study

C. C. Covey of Riverside, for many years active in civic matters in the Desert Hot Springs area, asked the Board of Supervisors this week to take steps to prevent the continuance of accidents due to flood conditions on Dillon Road brought about occasionally by fast falling rains which result in the swelling of Mission Creek.

He said water sometimes reaches a depth of six to eight feet across the road in a short time and that drivers are not aware of it until they actually reach it. "It doesn't look dangerous," said Covey. He said "another distracting situation" exists on Indian Avenue between Garnet and Palm Springs.

The Board of Supervisors referred the matter to the flood control engineer and road commission with a request for a report.

Trans-World Strike Started

United Press International
Planes of an intercontinental air line were grounded by a strike today and walkout threats against two other lines appeared likely to wipe domestic skies clean of passenger traffic over a broad section of the United States.

A fourth major line, Capital, planned a resumption of service after a 37-day strike had halted its operation.

Trans World Airlines, whose 196 daily flights normally carry about 12,000 passengers throughout the United States and to and from 23 foreign cities, was grounded by a walkout of 6,700 machinists. The strike began Friday morning, and planes in the air at deadline time were allowed to finish their flights.

Palm Springs as we know it today . . . a modern city that claims the beauty of the mountains and the beauty of the desert . . . the green beauty of the palm trees and the sparkling turquoise of hundreds of swimming pools . . . didn't just happen . . . It is the outgrowth of years of planning . . . of dreams, work and tears . . . Villagers and visitors who love Palm Springs . . . and its way of life . . . owe a debt of gratitude to those Founders . . . who are being honored tomorrow . . . when the Historical Society and the Desert Riders hold a joint breakfast meeting in Tamarisk Park . . . This is a fitting association . . . for one is recording and preserving the history of Palm Springs . . . and the other (Palm Springs oldest club) is preserving the western ways of the early days . . .

Always gracious hosts . . . Eddie and Bernice LeBaron entertained the other evening . . . at one of the smart, intimate affairs that add lustre to the Palm Springs social season . . .

It was a buffet dinner with places set at small tables . . . Candles burned softly in their holders on the central table, and were reflected a myriad times in the mirrors that wall this attractive room . . .

Among those enjoying the hospitality of the LeBarons was her mother, Mrs. Virginia H. Smith (daughter of Mrs. George Washington Kavanaugh) . . . Other guests included new Villagers the H. H. Ridders (executive of the Ridder newspaper chain), the Joe Hales, Joe Froggats . . . Randolph Christies, Glenn Austins, S. P. Manasses, Monte Herberts (down from Los Angeles for the Women's tournament at Thunderbird) . . . Dolph Obergeifs, B. J. Sanchez, Pierre Bouscaren, Georges Stoicesco . . .

The beautiful new Tierra Del Sol home of Palm Springs' most eligible bachelor Frank Harper had a royal housewarming the other evening . . . when he hosted more than 100 friends at cocktails

The house with its many unusual features was decorated by Harper . . . and made an attractive setting for the merry gathering . . . A black block fireplace centers the livingroom . . . and the custom-designed furniture in magenta is in striking contrast to the charcoal floors . . . The glassed-in patio . . . with tropical thatched roof and tropical plantings . . . was also much admired . . .

A few of the guests included the Chauncy Needhams, Victor Hugo-Vidals, George Camerons . . . Earl Buckinghams, Joe Dyers, James Tunas . . . Clarke Swansons, Eddie Susallas, John Dawson . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ken Evans, Dick Guelichs, Mrs. Frank Bering, the Edgar Schills . . . and many, more . . .

Newly-elected officers installed by the 23rd District president, Mrs. Elwood Rutherford of Banning, were: Mrs. Frances Blondon, president; Dr. Lucille Fosdell, 1st vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Betty Muileck, 2nd vice president and ways and means chairman; Mrs. Genevieve McMichael, 3rd vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Pat Wahlberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Bunker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen Gouraud, treasurer; Paul Needleman, auditor; Mrs. Mildred Oistad, historian and publicity chairman; and Mrs. Mildred Brechin, parliamentarian.

Dr. Dwight Twist, superintendent of schools, addressed the assembly with a most informative speech on the objects and policies of the P-TA.

Accompanying the aforementioned District dignitaries was Mrs. Clara Noble of Banning, a past district president.

Due to conflicting activities of the Christmas season it was announced that the next regular meeting of the P-TA will be taken over by the children for the annual Christmas program with the date being changed to Monday, December 15.

Mrs. Herbert Has Committee For Luncheon

Mrs. Bow Herbert, chairman of the "Clothes For Tots" booth of the Palm Springs Woman's Club December 8th Christmas Carousel, entertained her committee Wednesday at a beautifully appointed luncheon at her home on Avenida Palos Verdes.

The Christmas Carousel (a glamorous Bazaar) is the largest fund raising event planned by the club and is a part of the club's program to provide scholarships to worthy students in the Palm Springs schools.

Among those enjoying Mrs. Herbert's hospitality were Mrs. Meade Hargiss, Francis Burten, Daniel H. McCauley, Walter Whittall, Gerald K. Sanborn, Mark Winslow, J. L. Haveren, Fred Hess, Ivan Barstow and Mrs. Howard Matthews general chairman of the Christmas Carousel.

"They were much the same as the chemise dresses I'd seen in shop windows last spring. Now I'm thinking of putting the two sacks I own into Brooks stock."

Mrs. Thomas' job for "Wonderful Town," a televised version of a Broadway hit which CBS will carry Nov. 30, was to assemble costumes for all feminine members of the cast except its star, Rosalind Russell. Hollywood's Orry-Kelly came to New York to design Miss Russell's clothes, which Brooks will make.

"The beginnings of cling were there in this fall's empire," she said. "And we're doing a lot of sirenies for television and Broadway musicals this winter. Girls are stepping into more revealing clothes."

Mrs. Thomas speaks from a knowledge of fashion cycles through the centuries. A native of Little Falls, N. Y., she has been with Brooks for 20 years, working with costumes "all the way back to Eve."

"No kidding," said the vivacious, brown-haired Mrs. Thomas. "We've outfitted several Eves. But we gave them more than just a fig leaf. Usually a flesh-colored leotard."

"It seems to me there is little new in fashion," she said. "We were getting together costumes for 'Wonderful Town' and I thought some of those late Twen-

Clinic Stresses Empire And Bubble Coiffures

Members of the Desert Coiffure Guild Unit 49 received their National Hairdressers' & Cosmetologist Association gold pins and attended a style clinic Wednesday evening at their dinner meeting at Laury's Steak Ranch. Pins were presented by Lyle Van De Walker and Mr. St. John of the mother club, who were introduced by president Ilia Mae Collins.

Fifty-four watched the style clinic which opened with Van De Walker, 2nd vice president of the California Cosmetologist Association, combed and demonstrated an Empire line with smooth waved bangs, using Marilyn Hill as a model. Violet Evans was also given waved back line Empire coiffure by St. John. Jess Eberhardt, first place hair style winner of the Desert Coiffure Guild, designed a Bubble Empire with contour neckline on Maizie Beniel. Barbara Garrisuta combed her model Miss Helen, who won the National Hairstyling contest. This again was a crisscross of hair at the nape of the neck, with another crisscross of hair on top to form a bang, and again an Empire line in the crown.

Emphasized was the Empire line and Bubble hair coiffures, which have gone international. This was one of many monthly clinic meetings of the Guild, bringing famed hair stylists to the desert.

Feminine Faces Get Made Over

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The ladies who have already improved their figures by adding a bit here and there are being offered such improvements above the neck.

The newest makeup calls for false eyelashes, false eyebrows, and false hairpieces, said Guy Nicolet, a Frenchman who has made over feminine faces from Cairo to California.

To show what he means about the new look, Nicolet described how he would make up two models for a gathering which his boss, Elizabeth Arden, is staging for her sales representatives Friday night.

"We'll show a last year's girl and a this year's girl," said Nicolet. "Last year's will be decked out in the sackiest sack we could find . . . wearing no rouge, done up in pale makeup, with pointed eyebrows, and lipstick in two shades — a dark outside line and lighter inside."

"This year's will wear an empire gown, lots of eye makeup, a false hairpiece, false lashes, lots of rouge — the Empress Josephine wore lots of rouge, you know. We'll use a pale pink foundation and powder, and shape her eyebrows to a thin, high line like Harlow or Dietrich. Most women don't have much eyebrows anyway and have to fake them."

For added phoniness, he will mix "star sprinkle," a harmless gold dust, on her eyeshadow, in her hair and on her lipstick.

Nicolet does not recommend that we women put on all this gook for supermarket or office; save it for evening and grand occasions.

Advocating that women wear more makeup for daytime gets pretty discouraging anyway, he indicated, "If I advise too many things, the woman won't do. So I try to tell her how she can draw attention to her good features with skillful application of cosmetics."

"Fashions in clothes determine fashions in makeup," said Nicolet. "I won't know specifically what we'll feature for spring until I see the new collections in Paris. But I do think we will see hair styles a lot simpler and smoother, no longer bouffant. Lipstick will be light again, pink with a yellow cast instead of white."

Nicolet said his work with American women has convinced him we all make one make-up error — "trying to look sun-tanned the year round." "All of you wear your foundation too dark," he said. "Looks terrible with winter clothes and furs."

Roselle Ernst, an Exemplar member from Florida, was introduced as a guest; Marge Hayes reported that the bake sale held at the Plaza Theater last Saturday was a huge success; and a workshop was held for the preparation of ways-and-means projects and invitations to the regional brunch which will be held at the Chi Chi in January.

When refreshment time came around, Eunice Crooke, hostess for the evening, dimmed the lights and presented a cake decorated with yellow roses and candles, symbolic of the sorority, to president Amelia Irvine in honor of her birthday.

The next meeting of the sorority will be held Tuesday, December 2, at the home of Eddie DeLong at 569 South Calle Santa Rosa.

HONORED AT A DINNER party given by the American Legion and Auxiliary Tuesday night were the four boys and a girl, who represented Palm Springs at Boys' State and Girls' State this year. The Student Ambassadors, who flew to Washington last June, were also honored guests.

Folk Music Makes Pleasant Program for Sigma Gamma

An entertaining evening of folk music was enjoyed by members of Sigma Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when they met Tuesday in the home of Betty Strebe on Tachevah Drive. After an introduction by Bettie Lacy of "Prose Into Music", Frances Blondin gave a fascinating and educational program on folk music. Having spent many weeks of research on music from medieval times to the present, Mrs. Blondin selected a representative collection from English madrigals to American folk and cowboy music and recorded it on tape with a running commentary.

Members were appreciative of the time and effort spent on the program and applauded the time-saving device of putting it on tape. During the business meeting,

Village GOC, Others in Nation to Be Deactivated Soon Due to SAGE

Active Here for 9 Years

Palm Springs Ground Observer Corps, which has served the desert area for nine years, was today ordered to be made inactive by the Secretary of the Air Force.

With the advent of the new SAGE System, (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment System), the 250,000 civilian volunteers, manning 16,000 GOC observation posts and 50 filter centers throughout the nation will be discontinued.

In a release from Washington, D. C., the Secretary of the Air Force said that the decision to relieve the volunteers from air defense was based on three facts: (1) the growing scope and efficiency of the air defense radar network; (2) that the GOC system is becoming unable to keep pace with the increasing speeds of enemy manned bombers and the weapons now being used in air defense; (3) the Air Force responsibility to relieve the volunteers of their burdensome duties when the air detection system had reached the point in operational effectiveness where it no longer required human backup.

In Palm Springs, the new GOC tower was built some three years ago near fire station No. 2, so that it could serve two uses, first as an observation tower for the GOC and second as a training site for local firemen. According to City Manager Robert W. Peterman today, the building now will be used exclusively for fire fighting training and for storage equipment.

$100-Million Aid Planned for Tito

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Authoritative sources said today the United States is preparing to send Communist Yugoslavia about 100 million dollars more in economic aid.

Part of the new assistance, they said, will be designed to take up some of the slack left when Russia last summer backed out of its agreement to assist Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito's industrial program.

This will bring to about 900 million dollars the amount of American economic aid to Tito since 1950 to help him pursue a course independent of Moscow.

Educator Urges Parental Interest In Schools Here

CATHEDRAL CITY — John Mount, vice principal at Nellie H. Coffman Junior High School, told Cathedral City Junior Women's Club this week that knowledge of their local educational system is a primary responsibility of parents.

In recognition of National Education Week, Mount spoke to the club in its regular meeting held in Town Hall here.

Mount emphasized that it is parental responsibility to know what subjects students are taught and to know of the books from which they are taught. Parents would also benefit, he said, from an increased interest in schoolhouse building.

The administrator called for closer union between parents and teachers and lauded the Palm Springs Unified School District plan for "Back-to-School" programs that enable parents to become better acquainted with teachers and curriculum.

Hide and Seek In Villager's Car Nets $50 Fine

A one-sided game of peek-a-boo cost Percy J. Ayers $50.

Ayers, a tight-lipped citizen who refused to give his address to police, was arrested earlier this week after he was found hiding in the back seat of a Village woman's car, covered by a coat.

Police first charged Ayers with suspicion of intent to commit robbery, but the charge was reduced to vagrancy.

Ayers today pleaded guilty to the charge and was given a 30-day suspended sentence and a $50 fine by Judge Eugene Theriaue.

Compromise Solution

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UPI) — Sig Frucht, Houston produce executive, is ready to settle "on a 50-50 basis" with a big squirrel for the pecans on a tree in Frucht's yard.

Frucht said the squirrel had been eating his pecans for days when he caught him and took a swipe at him with a broom.

"Instead of running," Frucht said, "he bared his teeth and growled at me. I thought he was going to charge me. Now I'd be willing to settle on a 50-50 basis with him."

Cabbie

That's what Jim LaRowe did.

He installed a radio-telephone in his taxi last summer. Since then, the 54-year-old part-time cabbie says, business has been booming.

LaRowe got the idea because many of his passengers asked to stop at a phone booth to make calls, while doctors, attorneys and other professional men often fidged in the back seat wishing they weren't out of touch with their offices.

AMONG FIRST NIGHTERS attending the formal opening of the La Quinta Desert Club this week were, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Eliot and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whitmore
